The diagram illustrates the relationship between Armor Class (AC) and Hit Points (HP) in a game system. It is divided into two main sections: ARMOR CLASS and HIT POINTS.

- ARMOR CLASS:
 - without shield: The top-right quadrant, representing the base AC without a shield.
 - current: The bottom-left quadrant, representing the AC with a shield (indicated by a shield icon in a diamond shape).
 - without armor: The bottom-right quadrant, representing the AC without armor.
- HIT POINTS:
 - temp.: The top-right quadrant, representing temporary hit points.
 - current: The bottom-left quadrant, representing the current hit points (indicated by a heart icon in a diamond shape).
 - max.: The bottom-right quadrant, representing the maximum hit points.

Arrows indicate the flow of information or calculation between these states, showing how the current state is derived from the base state and modifiers.
